ONLINE TRAINING

What you can expect from this service

Our bespoke sessions are tailored exclusively for your business and your business alone. Our dedicated trainer

Pete will liaise with you to understand your unique requirements before developing and delivering a session that addresses your business needs. Although many small business owners take advantage of the 1 to 1 nature of these sessions we can accommodate whole teams of people, whether that be your sales or marketing team, allowing others in your business the opportunity to learn alongside you. There is also an optional, but recommended, 12 month aftercare service (School of Social Media) to ensure you have ongoing support after the session.

“Our recruitment team in Somerset County Council had an extremely useful (and fun!) session with Introtweet, it was made very relevant to us and they gave so much thoughtful advice and so many ideas to take forward. The overview of the other main social media platforms was very helpful and will help us in planning our next steps once we progress from Facebook.”

– Somerset County Council

"Following my one-to-one with the Introtweet experts, i've gained a very good understanding of how platforms work, such as facebook and instagram, and therefore learnt how to optimise them. For example, little changes to business profiles that make significant differences. It turns out, the things I didn't think were that important are actually game changing!"
